

Bold statement

A retro palette of bright orange and deep brown helps bring this narrow kitchen to life

Without the luxury of space, designers often look for other ways to make a kitchen stand out. Strong lines, bold colours and contrasting textures can be just as effective in small spaces as they are in larger ones.

Designer Greg Natale made the most of this narrow kitchen by using retro colours and interesting textures. Situated at the rear of a renovated terrace house, the kitchen is essentially one long bench with integrated appliances. The most striking feature is a bright orange benchtop, specified by the homeowners.

"Most people are quite conservative when it